- P.C.O.M. was first founded by two men, Dr. Mason W. Pressley and Dr. O.J. Snyder, graduates of the Northern Institute of Osteopathy in Minneapolis, Minnesota.
- The third college site, the Witherspoon building at Juniper and Walnut Streets, $3,000.00 purchased all the anatomical equipment needed for the college.
- The first Hospital of Osteopathy was the "Osteopathic Dispensary" located 1617 Fairmount Avenue.

"Early X Ray Room"

❦ In 1918 the new corporate name of "Philadelphia College of Osteopathy" was authorized.

❦ In 1917, as the outgrowth of the Osteopathic Dispensary, a new and modernly equipped hospital was constructed in the rear of the college at Spring Garden Street.

"Junior Class History"

- In 1922 the college course consisted of four years, nine months each year.
- Tuition in the early years was $300.00 cash or $350.00 in a bankable note. This fee covered the complete course from entrance as a freshman until graduation.

"P.C.O.M.—Coed from the beginning."

Philadelphia Osteopathy started as a branch of the New Jersey Charter of Osteopathy. It was dedicated to "improved methods of the healing art in accordance with Osteopathic theories of etiology, diagnosis, the prevention, and treatment of diseases."

In the early years of the college there were many intercollegiate athletic teams, including women's swimming and basketball and men's track, baseball and basketball.

"Early Clinical Years"

- In the early days of the college, D.O.'s were not well accepted by other members of the medical profession. In 1925, laws were passed in the state of Pennsylvania defining Osteopathy and the rights and duties of the Osteopathic physician.
- From 1915 to 1960, the Osteopathic Hospital also had a school of nursing, which was an important part of the institution.

URSINUS

"Follies Flashback"

- The college was always coeducational. Women were admitted from the beginning at a time when many other medical schools limited their class admission to men only.
- In 1929 the college had grown so largely and steadily that it again moved to 48th and Spruce Streets along with the hospital, where it remained until the 1970's.
- The 48th and Spruce Street Building won an award for the most beautiful building constructed in Philadelphia in 1929.

"Surgical Amphitheater"

On June 10, 1967, the dedication ceremonies of the new City Avenue hospital, the Frederic H. Barth Pavilion, took place at the entranceway to the hospital.

In June of 1972, LaPorte Medical Center of PCOM provided many services to the victims of the terrible flood that swept through Sullivan and surrounding counties. Many PCOM physicians and students volunteered and provided emergency medical assistance.

"Progress in the Past"

The present campus on City Avenue is the 8th home of the college. The Moss House and estate was purchased in the 1960's, and construction on the new 228 bed teaching hospital began after the acquisition. P.C.O.M. moved to City Avenue on March 3, 1973.

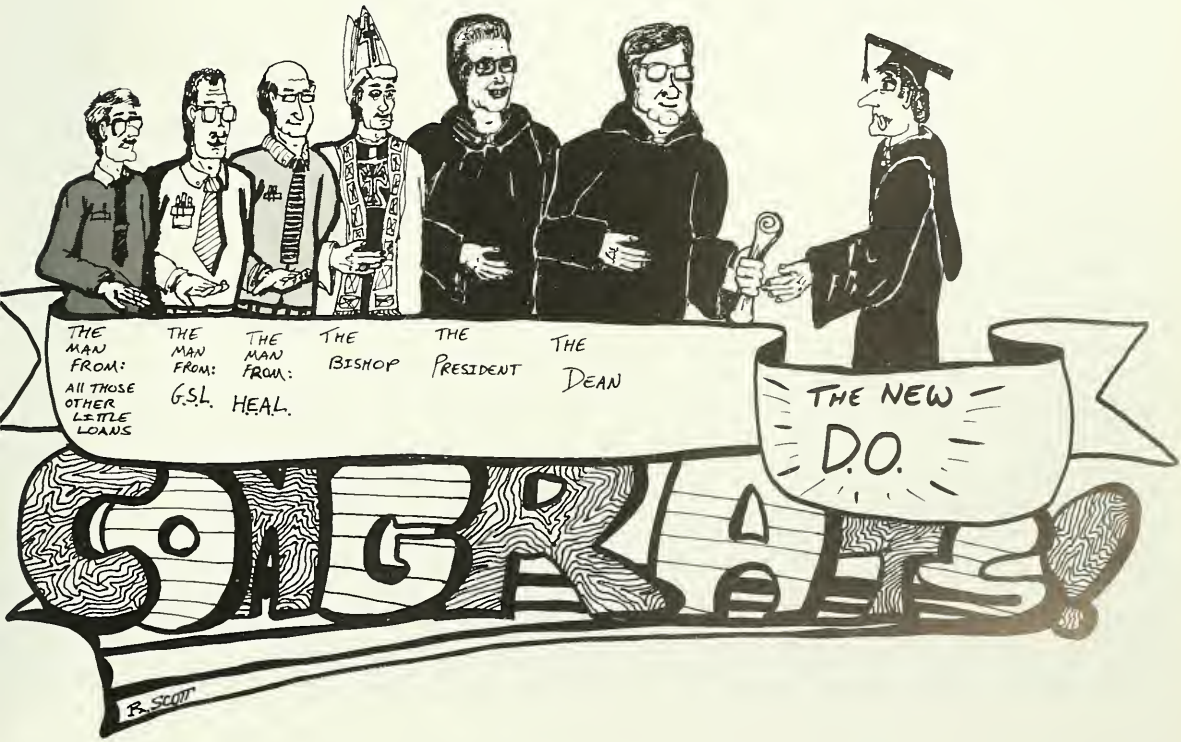
THE 100th GRADUATING CLASS OF THE PHILADELPHIA COLLEGE OF OSTEOPATHIC MEDICINE



OSTEOPATHIC OATH

I do hereby affirm my loyalty to the profession I am about to enter.

I will be mindful always of my great responsibility to preserve the health and the life of my patients, to retain their confidence and respect both as a physician and a friend who will guard their secrets with scrupulous honor and fidelity, to perform faithfully my professional duties, to employ only those methods of treatment consistent with good judgment and with my skill and ability, keeping in mind always nature's laws and the body's inherent capacity for recovery.

I will be ever vigilant in aiding in the general welfare of the community, sustaining its laws and institutions, not engaging in those practices which will in any way bring shame or discredit upon myself or my profession. I will give no drugs for deadly purposes to any person, though it be asked of me.

I will endeavor to work in accord with my colleagues in a spirit of progressive cooperation, and never by word or by act cast imputations upon them of their rightful practices.

I will look with respect and esteem upon all those who have taught me my art. To my college I will be loyal and strive always for its best interests and for the interests of the students who will come after me. I will be ever alert to further application of basic biologic truths to the healing arts and to develop the principles of osteopathy which were first enunciated by Andrew Taylor Still.

Hippocratic Oath

I swear by Apollo Physician and Asclepios and Hygeia and Panacea and all the gods and goddesses, making them my witnesses, that I will fulfill according to my ability and judgment this oath and covenant:

To hold him who has taught me this art as equal to my parents and to live my life in partnership with him, and if he is in need of money to give him a share of mine, and to regard his offspring as equal to my brothers in male lineage and to teach them this art - if they desire to learn it - without fee and covenant; to give a share of precepts and oral instruction and all the other learning to my sons and the sons of him who has instructed me and to pupils who have signed the covenant and have taken an oath according to the medical law, but to no one else.

I will apply dietetic measures for the benefit of the sick according to my ability and judgment; I will keep them from harm and injustice.

I will neither give a deadly drug to anybody if asked for it, nor will I make a suggestion to this effect. Similarly, I will not give to a woman an abortive remedy. In purity and holiness I will guard my life and my art.

I will not use the knife, not even on sufferers of the stone, but will withdraw in favor of such men as are engaged in this work.

Whatever houses I may visit, I will come for the benefit of the sick, remaining free of all intentional injustice, of all mischief, and in particular of sexual relations with both female and male persons, be they free or slaves.

What I may see or hear in the course of treatment or even outside the treatment in regard to the life of men, which on no account one must spread abroad, I will keep to myself, holding such things shameful to be spoken about.

If I fulfill this oath and do not violate it, may it be granted to me to enjoy life and art, being honored with fame among all men for all time to come; if I transgress it and swear falsely, may the opposite of all this be my lot.

Dear Class of 1991 -

Congratulations "Class of 1991". Being the 100th graduating class from PCOM makes you special. Having been closely associated with you in the classroom as well as being your Dean, I consider myself fortunate to have known you.

I feel we have prepared you well and with your ingenuity, you will go forth into the world with a feeling of pride and confidence that you can assist in alleviating human suffering. What a huge challenge that is! I am confident you will be the best. You are "people sensitive."

Remember the feeling that you experienced when you were accepted in 1987 to the class of 1991 at PCOM. I hope you go into the future with that same good feeling as you dedicate yourself to health promotion and disease prevention.

I hope you remember your Alma Mater with kind regards and come back to see us on many occasions. It would be discouraging to think that our relationship with you would be severed by graduation.

Best wishes, and kind regards. If I can ever be of service to you personally as well as a representative of PCOM, please call me.

I wish you the best in whatever field of endeavor you may select and may you always have good health, happiness and peace.

Sincerely,

Daniel L. Wisely, D.O.

Osteopathic

June, 1991

Dear Class of 1991:

Congratulations! You are our 100th class to receive the degree of Doctor of Osteopathy from Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. Besides this momentous anniversary date, you are graduating at the most exciting time in the history of this college and, I believe, the osteopathic profession. Although far from complete, plans and programs are already in place that will make this institution a major force in medical education and health care in the Delaware Valley. Our goal is to make PCOM the flagship of the osteopathic profession.

The institution has expanded all existing post-graduate osteopathic medical training programs and expects to institute new programs in Dermatology, Psychiatry, Environmental/Occupational Medicine and Sports Medicine. We expect that within two years all of these programs will be in place. Our goal is to provide in-depth, quality residency training programs for not only our own graduates but also the graduates of every osteopathic medical school in this country.

The institution will support you in all of your endeavors wherever they may be, with whatever institution you may choose to affiliate. Your support, in no matter what form it may be, will be absolutely necessary for us to insure success of the entire process. I will welcome hearing from each and every one of you at any time. And, again, I have instructed the entire administration of this institution to assist you in any way whenever possible.

The Trustees, the faculty, the staff and the alumni of the College join me in wishing you all the success in the world.

Fraternally,

To my family,
It must have been cold there in my shadow, to never have sunlight on your face. You were content to let me shine, that's your way, you always walked the step behind. So, I was the one with all the glory, while you were the one with all the strength. A beautiful face without a name for so long, a beautiful smile to hide the pain.
Did you ever know that you're my hero, and everything I would like to be? I can fly higher than the eagle, 'cause you are the wind beneath my wings.
It might have appeared to go unnoticed, but I've got it all here in my heart. I want you to know I know the truth, of course I know it, I would be nothing without you.
Did you ever know that you're my hero, and everything I would like to be? I can fly higher than an eagle, 'cause you are the wind beneath my wings. Thank you, thank you, thank God for you, the wind beneath my wings.

The experiences over the last four years at PCOM were invaluable. They were made possible thanks to the support of my parents, family, friends, and the PCOM community. I cannot thank my parents enough for their insight, intuition, encouragement, and loving presence that made my eventual medical degree a reality. My time here has been rewarding, fulfilling, and enjoyable. I now hope my classmates and I can make a difference out there in the "Real World".

Laurence V. Cramer, D.O.

Larry was born when I was just 13, not much to look at, when he was first seen. He grew quickly, playing with toy guns, cars and apes, and almost did himself in by eating glass grapes.
I went off to college when he was just 4, I heard that he spent much time w/ Kitty Cumbo behind the closed door.
I brought home my fiance for the family to see, Larry graciously welcomed him w/ a kick in the knee.
At the wedding, Larry dressed w/ his usual style, Plaid pants, Boon-dockers, and a perfect smile.
He grew quickly and soon I was much shorter, when I was in need he would lend me a quarter. Having 3 older sisters was not always so hot, he got good advice if he wanted it or not.
Then off to PSU, where frat life was in, Larry got his first taste of delectable sin. He studied quite hard but he made quite sure he got his share of skiing and a European tour.
He shocked all his family w/ his parttime work, 12 weeks as a waiter, but it wasn't a quirk. His next job required periodic donations, But he was unable to "father" any hamster nations.
Love life has brought both joy and pain, But the pursuit of a mate will never be in vain.
Larry has matured into a handsome young lad, He is caring and witty and never a cad.
Needless to say, my brother is quite smart, But most entertaining when lighting a fart. Larry has always had a special place as the only son, and as a brother and an uncle, is a very special one.
I love him, as do we all, We wish him success, happiness and a low cholesterol.

Linda: I feel without you none of this would be possible, you have always been there for me, either with a kind encouraging word or a loving touch; you are my strength. I love you very much.

To my Father: God rest his soul, if I had one wish it would be for you to see this day. Thank you Dad for all you taught me about being a man, I will never forget it. When I have children, I hope I can be as patient and understanding with them as you were with me. I know your proud today.

To my Mother; Anytime I have a bad day you always have an ear to listen and a word to calm. You are the kindest, most sincere person I have ever met. Mom don't ever change you are the greatest and I love you. Thank you for all you have done to make my medical career possible.

To my Family: With a support group like this how could any—one fail. Thank you all, your support and advice has been very important to me. You are the best.

Four years is a long time in a narrow sense but only a fraction in a lifetime. Much has happened during the past four years of my life: much sadness, much happiness, and much that I do not and never will understand. During those years, I have lost some things that I can never replace but I have also gained memories that will never be forgotten. I know in time those that I have lost will fade further away, but they will never be forgotten. For that which I have gained, a lifetime remains in which to grow.
Thanks to mom for all her support and love, without which I do not know where I would be now.
Thanks to my friends, for all their support and tolerance. You are family, for one who does not have much.
To my father, you are gone but I will never forget you.
Remember, faith and commitment are interchangeable: without one you have neither, with both you have everything.

Success

To laugh often and much; To win the respect of intelligent people and affection of children; To earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; To appreciate beauty, To find the best in others; To leave the world a little better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch, or a redeemed social condition. To know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. This is to have succeeded.

So it's time for best wishes as you go on your way
Yet to each there comes some sorrow, some heartaches, but much joy.
You stand now at the threshold - an eager learned boy.
The time has come as we all know that you go forth your training show
The choice is yours so choose it well as you to Medical School bid farewell.
Your parents, friends, and loved ones too, can only do so much for you.
There may be times when others scorn,
  alone you'll stand and so forelorn,
But set your standards, keep them high Respect you'll gain if you but try-try and do as best you know
Our faith in you shall ever grow;
It won't be always easy to do as you've been taught,
But once you've faced the issue, the battle has been fought.
So now as you stand in cap and gown
  a big sunny smile and nary a frown,
For a smile does wonders to light up the face
In fact it's universal whatever the race.
So grasp that diploma as if t'were a crown
May you aim for the sky, but with feet on the ground.

To my best friend, my beautiful mom: Thank you for always being there to give me love, support and a lifetime of very special memories. I love you.

Neil: Always strive to be the very best you can be, because you are the best to me. I love you.

John: With you, my dreams have become a reality. I look forward to sharing the rest of my life with you by my side. I love you.

And finally to my dear dad . . . . . my inspiration, my strength and the man I most admire. You truly are the wind beneath my wings. I love you.

Class of 1991: Lots of love, luck and happiness to each of you . . . especially Trudy and Jimmy. Thanks.

Anne Jain, D.O

Michael Anthony Jalowiec, D.O.

All my thanks to my parents for their encouragement and support during these past four years; I love you both very much.
To my wife, Johnna; words cannot express how much you mean to me, thanks for everything. I love you.

A very special thanks to my Grandpa for his wisdom and to my Grandma for her prayers.

Prayer of St. Francis

Lord, make me an instrument of your peace.
Where there is hatred,
let me sow love;
Where there is injury, pardon;
Where there is doubt, faith;
Where there is despair, hope;
Where there is darkness, light;
And where there is sadness, joy.

O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console;
to be understood as to understand;
to be loved as to love.

For it is in giving that we receive,
it is in pardoning that we are pardoned,
and it is in dying
that we are born to eternal life.

Thank You, Mom and Dad, I made it.

Aaah, that's all folks.

Rick, Good Luck . . . wherever you end up.

Trudy A. Kantra, D.O.

Mom and Dad: Thank you for your endless support, numerous sacrifices and unconditional love. You believed in me and gave me the courage to try and the determination to succeed. I love you.

Al and Leslie: The best younger brother and sister-in-law anyone could have. Thanks for always being there for me and for your "big brother" advice.

Marybeth, my "leetle seester": A big part of this degree should be yours. You saw me through most of these 4 years - thanks for your understanding and love.

Grandma: Thank you for all of your love. This one is for you and Grandpa.

Dr. Zube: Thank you for your encouragement to pursue my dream - you have been my inspiration.

To my PCOM friends, THE HERD, and the Class of 1991: I could not have done this without all of you. I wish you much happiness and success . . .

May the road rise to meet you, may the wind be always at your back, the sunshine warm upon your face, the rain fall soft upon your fields and until we meet again, may God hold you in the hollow of His hand.

MOM & DAD: Thank you for enriching my life & instilling in me the love, respect & compassion for all living things. You have shown me the beauty of life through your love & friendship. From Puff the Magic Dragon, to our endless Menagerie, to the Dragonfly & to "Time Standing Still" I am what I am because of you. Your support, understanding & love have carried me always. I love you from the bottom of my heart & eternally.
ANDREW: Your the most special person in my life. Your a wonderful brother & you have touched my life like no one else.
MICHAEL: Your love & guidance through my life & with my career has touched me deeply. Your a wonderful brother & my respect for you is immeasurable.
HELEN: Thank you for being more of a sister & friend to me than a sister-in-law.
STEPHANIE & JOSHUA: Thank you for giving me laughter & love in my life & for always putting a smile in my heart.
SIBELIUS: Your the Finest Friskiest Feline Friend in the world. Thank you for your love, affection & companionship. For always waiting & endless joy - your Purrfection!

To The Class of 1991:

One hundred years of tradition, education and service to the community are a sizeable legacy. We are duly proud. With this achievement comes new responsibilities. No longer is the osteopath or the osteopathic profession second best. To be merely conservators of this inheritance is no longer sufficient, we must be innovators. This class, backed by quality education and instilled with a spirit of confidence from its predecessors must go further and achieve goals never imagined in our profession. This is not our hope, this is our obligation. One hundred years of excellence dictates that we achieve, one hundred years of tradition assures us that we will. I am convinced of the abilities of this class and look forward to sharing in your success. Congratulations.

CLASS OF 1991

Congratulations on your achievement in obtaining your degree in osteopathic medicine.

Each of you, in your own special way, has sacrificed, struggled, and finally succeeded in overcoming all obstacles in attaining your desired goal. This type of perseverence and dedication will serve you well in caring for your patients, and support you in raising your families.

Best of luck in all your future endeavors, and please don't forget that the Path Department is still here to help you at any time. On yes... and Ben, you can lower the lights now.

Sincerely yours,

My parents whose tenaciousness, hard work, determination, as well as unconditional love and support have guided me through the years. Mom & Dad, without you I could have never made it.

My best friend Issa who is like a brother to me, and who could probably have never made it without me (Too bad you want to be a lawyer, boss).

All the wild 'n' crazy guys in my birthplace Bratislava, Czechoslovakia - thanks for the strong and enduring friendship; I'll never forget where I came from.

Thank you all.

I've paid my dues, time after time
I've done my sentence, but committed no crime
And bad mistakes, I've made a few
I've had my share of sand kicked in my face
But I've come through . . . . .

I've taken my bows and my curtain calls
You've brought me fame and fortune
And everything that goes with it
I thank you all
But it's been no bed of roses, no pleasure cruise
I consider it a challenge before all human race
And I ain't gonna lose
We are the champions . . . .

I have been blessed with the opportunity to spend the last four years learning the basics of what is known as 'The Art of Medicine.' I wish to thank all of those who have helped me get to this point in my life:

Thank you to PCOM for taking a chance on me - I promise to prove to you that you did not make a mistake.

A special thank you to Dr. Dan Wisely for your unfailing support of my medical career and for you kindhearted care while I was hospitalized. Also a quick thanks to Ruth - My Presidency certianly would have failed without all your help.

Thanks to all my dear friends at PCO: Jon, Josh, Jeff, Kosta, Trudy, Judy, Nancy, Gary, Rick, Stacy, Mike and Kim, Luke and Beth, and last, but most definitely not least, Mel. Thanks for all the study help, the volleyball and softball, your support of me and Student Council, but mostly - thanks for the great times at the BEACH! "Let's go see the RAGE BAND!!"

Lastly, I wish to thank my family for putting-up with me and always supporting me, and without whom I could not have even contemplated going to medical school. Doug and Dan, I love you both and know you will always be there for me - you guys are the best! Mom, you have been my pillar throughout, I love you very much and could not have made it without you by my side. Dad, your love of family and self-sacrificing compassion for your parish have given me my inspiration to become a physician, thanks for understanding who and what I am - I love you.

THANK YOU ALL!

My deepest appreciation to my extensive support system. To Mom and Dad, thanks for supplying a healthy dose of love and confidence. To my brothers and sisters, thanks for instilling the will and incentive to continue the pursuit of my dreams. To my wife's family, thanks for that special touch that has kept me going. To my friends, thanks for being perceptive enough to know when I needed a break from medicine and for making those breaks memorable!

And last, but not least, to my wife and son; thank you for keeping everything in perspective. Medicine may be my career, but you are my life.

To live content with small means; to seek elegance rather than luxury, and refinement rather than fashion, to be worthy, not respectable, and wealthy, not rich; to study hard, think quietly, talk gently, act frankly; to listen to stars and birds, to babes and sages, with open heart; to bear all cheerfully, do all bravely, await occasion, hurry never.

I would like to thank the following people:
Jackie-To the best friend that I have. We made it babe! The past 4 years have been the best times of my life and I'm glad we shared them together. Thanks for your love, support, and understanding through the good times and the bad. I know that our future together is going to be the best. I love you, Steven.

Mom & Dad- Everything that you've ever done for me couldn't fit on this page. Without all of your love, support, and guidance this could have never come true. Thanks for being there when I had a problem and needed someone to talk to. I love you both more than words could ever express. Thanks, Steven.

David-To the best brother a person could ever hope for or want. I wish you all the luck and success in the world. Whatever you decide to do just remember you have all of my love and support as well as everyone elses. I'm very proud of you. Love, Steven.

My Grandparents- I wish you could have been here to share this with me. I hope that I have made you proud, I miss you. Love your grandson-Steven.

My Friends- To all of you, especially Tom Croce. Thanks.

Linda Marie Purcell, D.O.

My life is enriched by knowing each one of you. Thank you for your never-ending support, your love and your laughs. And to my bestest bud who's always opening new doors, here we go again. I love you! Finally, in loving memory of two special people whose love for life inspired my own, I dedicate this page.

I wish to thank my parents for all of the love and support that they have given me through out the years. Without them I would not have succeeded. Thanks to my sister who gave more than I could ever repay. Thanks to all of my friends who have stood beside me through all of the trials that the past years have brought, without their support I probably would not have made it. Rejoice in the Lord always; again I will say, rejoice! Let your forbearing spirit be known to all men. The Lord is near. Be anxious for nothing, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known to God. And the peace of God, which surpasses all comprehension, shall guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus. Finally, brethren, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is of good repute, if there is any excellence and if anything worthy of praise, let your mind dwell on these things (Philippians 4:4-8).

For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, Jesus Christ, that whosoever believes in Him shall not perish but have eternal life. John 3:16 For what I received I pass on to you as first importance: that Jesus Christ died for our sins, was buried, and raised on the third day according to the Scriptures. 1 Corinthians 15:3 Salvation is found in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given to men by which we must be saved. Acts 4:12 I am not ashamed of the gospel, because it is the power of God for the salvation of everyone who believes: first for the Jew, then for the Gentile. Romans 1:16

Whatever you do, work at it with all your heart, as working for the Lord, not for men, since you know that you will receive an inheritance from the Lord as a reward. It is the Lord Jesus Christ you are serving. Colossians 3:23-24

We describe hard-working and successful people as "self-made." We talk admiringly of those who "stand on their own two feet." We think such dynamic individuals are in charge of their own destiny and responsible for themselves.

But, of course, every human being has built upon those who have gone before, who have planted the seeds that mature and are harvested in our lives.

For those who have planted the vineyards and olive groves of which I have eaten— my Mother and Father; George, Andrew, William and Kate; Aunt Carol and Uncle Bill; Ellen and all family and friends—THANK you! I am a product of you all.

As I sit here pondering what to say about these last four years, I realize that trying to put four years of medical school into a few short phrases is indeed an exercise in futility, much like trying to explain to someone who hasn't experienced it what it's like. There have been good times and times when I didn't know if I would make it. But as I look back I realize that I wouldn't have done anything different. To my mom I can truthfully say that I couldn't have done it without you. You're the greatest. For their undying support I am ever grateful and consider myself quite fortunate to have them as friends and I would like to express my thanks to Mike and Laura, Mark and Becky, Michele, Donna, Theresa, Jean, and of course, Nick.

Mere words can not express my feelings of gratitude and appreciation for all those who have loved and supported me. May my actions of the past, and those of the future, show to all my deepest and most heart-felt thanks. For life is a journey shared with people, and it is those bonds we make and the memories thereof that I cherish, and will always!

My Family, I have tried very hard to be a son, a grandson, a big brother, a nephew, and a cousin you all could be proud of. I will always continue to do so. I love and thank you all. For I could not be where I am in life now without each and everyone of you.

My Friends, you are all special people, and I am fortunate to be blessed with your friendships.

Mark, if I was not the oldest in my family, you would be the best big brother a person could have. You own part of my degree, for without your friendship and brotherly love, I would not be the person that I am today.

Paula, my wife, you too have taught me so much. You brought desire, happiness, and love back into my life. I owe my existence here today to you, for you are the greatest reason I have to live. God blesses us with a few special people in our life, and I thank Him for blessing me with you. I love you!

To the Class of 1991:

It is difficult for me to comprehend that four years have passed since I first met you in Physiology. You were a challenging class from the very beginning - challenging in the sense that you kept me "on my toes". You were eager to learn and constantly sought answers to the questions that continually evolved as you became intimately involved in your studies. Hard work, sleepless nights, anxieties, and depressions were encountered as you rode the emotional roller-coaster through your medical education to this graduation day.

I congratulate you and I commend you for mastering a most demanding program that provided you with both the knowledge and skills that are necessary to become an outstanding, competent osteopathic physician. I have reason to believe that you will be caring physicians who will encounter your patients with compassion. I also believe you will be proud to be an osteopathic physician and will be a credit to your profession.

I was honored to have you as students and you have my best wishes for success and happiness in your chosen profession.

Hear, Lord, my prayer for my G.I., so eager to live—too young to die.

Beneath an alien blistering sun,
he faces a dangerous enemy gun.

The storm clouds gather, the horror of war,
my soldier stands bravely guarding the door.

Defending justice, peace, and freedom, to his Commander-in-Chief give Holy wisdom.

From war's alarms, bring swift release.
Hasten the day of honorable peace.

On land and sand and sea and air,
I back my soldier with this prayer:

My Fellow Classmates,

As this last yearbook deadline approaches, I realize how quickly our fourth year - actually how quickly all four years a PCOM have gone by. Since last March of 1990 when the yearbook staff was first gathering to discuss plans for our Synapsis, we knew we had to do something special for the 100th graduating class. We wanted to congratulate our institution for 100 years of excellency, as seen by the touch of history in the first section. In researching for these nostalgic moments, I read quite a few old yearbooks and history logs. We've only given you a glimpse of OMCP's past, but let me assure you that it is a wonderful past of which we may all be proud ... leaving us with big shoes to fill.

This brings us to the bulk of the yearbook - "US." In these thirty-two glorious pages of color, we wanted to celebrate and congratulate "US," the Class of 1991, in the recent past and the present; when you look through all of these pages, realize that we are the future -- we are to carry on the Osteopathic Philosophy and the tradition of superiority in medical care. I think it is fitting that the second one hundred years of Osteopathic Medicine in Philadelphia are to begin with our class as interns. We have a class filled with intelligent, talented, and caring individuals - truly good physicians. We also have a special class that worked hard and played hard too, as we are so reminded by memories of Radiology Class, Follies, Halloween Parties, and Golfing! Our class is full of LIFE! Through these controversial and changing times, not only in Osteopathic Medicine but in the medical field in general, I hope our class remains unaffected and remains energetic and active in the perpetration of excellence in the Osteopathic profession.

Lastly, I would like to thank everyone in our class for their participation in the senior section, and for sending in all those pictures for the general sections. Yes, thank you for those one thousand pictures we looked through over and over again. Special thanks to Marlowe, Melissa, Dave, Dianne, Trudy, and Lori, for without them this yearbook would not be in front of you! Thanks to all those who came to PCOM on those long Tuesday nights to lay out senior pages. I think the entire staff should be saluted for a fantastic job well done! I sincerely hope everyone enjoys Synapsis '91, and I wish everyone the best of luck in all future endeavors. Thanks again to all those special people who made this yearbook a reality. WE MADE ALL OF OUR DEADLINES!

Sincerely,

Judy

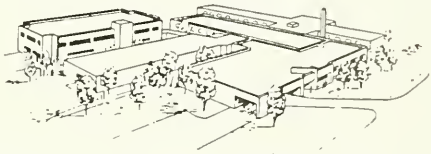
Firelands Community Hospital

A MEDICAL AND OSTEOPATHIC CENTER

Decatur Street Facility

Hayes Avenue Facility



Firelands Community Hospital invites you to become a member of one of the most progressive health care teams in the Heart of Vacationland.

Firelands is a 301 bed acute care medical center serving a population of over 200,000 in a five county area of North Central Ohio. One of the largest, most comprehensive health care facilities in the Sandusky area, Firelands will give you the opportunity to learn your profession in an environment that fosters personal satisfaction and growth.

We offer eight rotating internships approved by the American Osteopathic Association. Externships and residencies in general practice are also available.

Sandusky, located on the southern shore of Lake Erie, is midway between Toledo and Cleveland. The area is famous for its recreational facilities, which include beautiful city and state parks, fishing piers, beaches, Cedar Point Amusement Park and boating facilities. Our North Coast region is also rich in both cultural activities and education opportunities.

For more information call Richard L. Blackann, D.O., Director of Medical Education, Firelands Community Hospital, at (419) 626-7400.

Ever since she was a young girl, Stacy wanted to be involved with medicine. First as a P.T., later in sports medicine and finally as a doctor specializing in orthopedic rehabilitation.

She was steadfast in her focus throughout her primary, secondary and tertiary education. At Valley School, Garrison Forest, Penn State and finally at PCOM her dream became a reality.

The dedication to her goals has been rewarded.

Congratulations and a hearty "Well Done!"

The Advantages of Selecting a Leader.

Opportunity.

The opportunity to train at Botsford General Hospital opens many possibilities for your career. Botsford offers a wide range of specialty and sub-specialty programs, as well as alternate and specialty tract internships in OB/Gyn, Internal Medicine and Family Practice. These programs represent some of the Osteopathic profession's finest educational opportunities.

You will use the latest technology while you train in your choice of 16 specialties. You will practice in a challenging setting under the direction of a professional staff committed to quality medical education. You will learn in a multi-disciplined two-hospital system, linked medically and educationally to the progressive Southeast Michigan medical community. Botsford General Hospital is affiliated with the Michigan State University College of Osteopathic Medicine.

Specialization.

Choose your specialty program with the knowledge that you'll be working in a quality educational environment:

Anesthesia • Cardiology • Emergency Medicine • Gastroenterology • Family Practice • General Surgery • Infectious Disease • Internal Medicine • Medical Diseases of the Chest • Neurology • Obstetrics/Gynecology • Ophthalmology • Orthopedic Surgery • Otorhinolaryngology/Orofacial Plastic Surgery • Peripheral Vascular Surgery • Radiology • Urologic Surgery

Foundation.

You have many choices to make as part of the medical profession. Give yourself every advantage as you begin your career. Make your first choice Botsford General Hospital.

EASTON HOSPITAL

Easton Hospital Residency Programs

University Affiliation.
As a major teaching affiliate of Hahnemann University School of Medicine, Easton Hospital is the site for regular third year medical and surgical rotations; fourth year medical and surgical electives; and internal medicine, surgery, and transitional year residencies of outstanding quality.

High Passing Rates.
Easton residents pass their examinations! In addition, Easton Hospital has an outstanding record for placing graduates in quality subspecialty programs.

Hands-On Experience.
Our dynamic combination of "learning by doing" plus excellent supervision brings results: our graduating surgical residents were recently rated better than the 90th percentile in the number of complex surgical procedures performed.

Patient Diversity.
The wide variety of clinical pathology diagnosed and treated at Easton Hospital's state-of-the-art facility is comparable to that experienced at university centers. Most of our patients are diagnosed and treated first at Easton Hospital, not after evaluation elsewhere.

Excellent Practice Opportunities.
Young physicians seeking to start a practice find the metropolitan area surrounding Easton a "land of opportunity." The Lehigh Valley offers an attractive environment, a rapidly growing professional population, low unemployment and proximity to NYC and Philadelphia – ideal for establishing successful medical practices.

Let Easton Hospital show you how our programs can help prepare you for a successful and fulfilling career.
Call the Director of the Department of Medicine, Dr. Kenneth Wildrick (215-250-4013) or the Director of the Department of Surgery, Dr. George Watkins (215-250-4014).
